GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC DUTY ON SUPPLIES DIS- CUSSED

Opposition Want to Raise Freight Rates on New Road.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The Grand Trunk Pacific bill was up for discussion all day. The opposition insisted that all the supplies for the construction of the railway should pay duty whether imported by the government or by the contractors. The government gave assurance that all supplies purchased by contractors would have to pay duty, but refused to bind the government to pay duty on supplies imported for construction as a government work. The effect of the opposition's contention would be to increase the cost of the road and, therefore, compel higher rates.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

TO AN ONTARIO MAN IN RED DEER

Workman Fatally Injured in BaWtenheimer's Saw Mill.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Red Deer, Sept. 16.—A horrible accident occurred at BaWtenheimer's saw mill here last evening, when J. A. Oliver, late of Essex Centre, Ont., had his leg completely torn from his body. The accident will prove fatal.

LOCAL.

—Train left Red Deer on time.
—The rise in the prices of lumber has stopped work on several buildings about to be erected in Ponoka.
—Delightful weather greeted Edmonton's Civic Holiday yesterday. Many were out-enjoying the day.
—Our recent disagreeable weather seems to have come to a close and Alberta is returning to the old established order of things in the weather line.
—The Leduc Record came out last week with a much improved appearance. The paper is now printed and published in Leduc. H. A. Olson is editor and proprietor.
—The opening of the National Business College, which was to have taken place on September 1st, has been postponed till September 15th, owing to supplies not arriving in time.
—Several of our press dispatches have been delayed in transmission from Ottawa owing to the breakdown in the telegraphic wires as a result of the recent storm in Manitoba.
—An exciting tug-of-war match took place yesterday between teams representing the Firemen and the Carpenters Union. The carpenters won out on two straight pulls.

—T. P. Williams of the Edison Settlement, 56 miles north of Edmonton, was in the city yesterday. He is surprised at the reports of the weather at Edmonton, saying that at Edison, although wet weather was experienced, there was a far greater amount of bright, sunny weather. The Edison settlement is thriving, and a number of new settlers are going in weekly.
—The Misses Belcher, Miss Oliver, Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Arthur Belcher returned to Edmonton last night from several days' camping at Fort Saskatchewan.
—H. E. Wettlaufer, of Berlin, Ont., President of the Western Ontario Hockey Association has been in Edmonton the past couple of days. He assisted in the baseball match yesterday.

PERSONAL.

H. A. Olson, of the Leduc Record, was in Edmonton yesterday.
Mrs. M. McCrumm, left yesterday morning for a visit to Calgary.
H. B. Spratt returned last night from an extended visit to Ireland.
Jas. McGeorge and H. E. Rudd left this afternoon for a land inspecting trip to the Verillion.
Mr. H. G. Gardner left for Toronto, Ontario, this morning after a two months' visit with Edmonton friends.
E. Holger, a Grand Trunk Pacific surveyor, arrived in Edmonton last night to operate with a gang of men with Edmonton as headquarters.
The Misses Belcher, Miss Oliver, Mr. Nesbitt and Mr. Arthur Belcher returned to Edmonton last night from several days' camping at Fort Saskatchewan.
H. E. Wettlaufer, of Berlin, Ont., President of the Western Ontario Hockey Association has been in Edmonton the past couple of days. He assisted in the baseball match yesterday.

BASEBALL MATCH

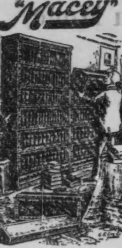

ON THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS

Thirsty Thugs Defeat Ed- monton Never Sweats— Fun Galore

One of the greatest games of baseball ever played in Edmonton took place yesterday afternoon on the exhibition grounds. No great trophy or sums of money were at stake, but for all that the game was intensely interesting. More than that no baseball game was ever played in this north country that caused such uproarious laughter among the spectators as did Saturday's game. The main feature of the game was, of course, the players. Before proceeding with the match a word in reference to the individual players is necessary. The Thirsty Thugs nine was composed of commercial travelers, and a jollier crowd than those in Edmonton on Civic Holiday could not well be imagined. Alphabetical (E. J. P.) Smith, of Geo. A. Slater's Invictus Shoe Company, Montreal, caught for the Thugs. Basil, Redmond, of Redmond Company's Fur houses, Montreal and Winnipeg, did the twirling. George Wilson, of Clark Bros. paper dealers, Winnipeg, held down first base, while H. B. Wettlaufer, of Chas. A. Ahrens & Co., boot and shoe dealers, Berlin, Ont., supplied fun for the crowd and incidentally acted as second baseman. T. C. H. Riley, (Ordinary Riley) of H. Shorey & Company, clothiers, Montreal, did great work on third base. S. Ewing, representing a Montreal coffee and spice firm, held his station on the left field, with W. G. Fallon, of the Williams Company, Limited, boot and shoe dealers, Galt, as centre fielder. On right field A. Mowat, of Phillips and Wrench, small wares, Toronto, did phenomenal work. J. McDermid, of McLaren and Dallas, boots and shoes, Toronto, acted as shortstop. For the Edmonton Never Sweats, W. Logie (Invincible) did the twirling, with Jim Thom (Prunes) as catcher. The other players were J. I. Mills (Duke Mc Down), first base; Jack Moore (Shady), second base; Rev. D. G. McQueen (Cath), third base; Joe Kelly (Rags), shortstop; H. W. B. Douglas (Munching), left field; Joe Whitelaw (Molasses), right field; J. Maguire (Jattons), centre field. The umpire was A. B. Powley (Father Time).

The game commenced at 2 o'clock and was interesting from the start. Alphabetical Smith, catcher, got next the umpire and had him announce that three strikes would be "out," whether the catcher nabbed the ball or not. The drummers first took the field and the mesmeric actions of Redmond in the box made the Never Sweats think that all was up with them. The game proceeded merrily. Fines for the benefit of the Edmonton hospital had been previously arranged for and Molasses was first lined one sack of flour for hitting the ball and forgetting to run. However, to make up for this "shameful" act, the warmth of the afternoon, Mulhage ran well. The side was retired with a few runs to their credit. The Thirsty Thugs went to bat and Alphabetical Smith came in for a fine of two sacks of flour for making a home run. Geo. Wilson, batted the ball into the right field, and amazed at his brilliant work, forgot to run—one sack of flour. Meanwhile Messrs. Sinclair and Campbell, among many others, were getting snap shots on the game. Riley had his eye on them and as the Invincible, dropped the next ball over home base Riley connected with it and consternation reigned in the photograph gallery. Not content with this, he drove the next ball broadside on an innocent looking cannie that was standing near. Riley promised to be good in the face of a threatened lynching. Logie got down to work and fanned out the next three Thugs. Rev. McQueen then went to bat and proved conclusively that though an old timer in Edmonton, he had not forgotten his early athletic training. His base running was specially applauded by the ladies among the spectators. Prunes batted a pretty one away out in the left field, but, sad to relate, Willie George Fallon by a piece of brilliant work gathered in the fly and the on-lookers yelled unanimously. Thom was around on third base before he awoke to the fact that he was—being laughed at. Redmond with the action of an old baseballer, proceeded to toss in some crooked ones retiring the side. Wettlaufer struck a sizzler out to Mulhage, where it failed to stick. "Fatty" continued to run to second. Molasses nabbed the ball and drove it in to Shady on second, but Fatty "slid a phenomenal slide" and Father Time sang out a-a-f-a-e. Ewing got his base on balls and dog-trotted around the diamond—nothing could persuade him to run. McDermid dropped into the pitcher's box at the eighth innings and pulled the game out of the hole. Mowat's ungallant action in striking the ball into a group of Edmonton fair ladies earned him a severe cailing down from Fatty Wettlaufer. Ingles was put out in the course of a frantic endeavor to provide two sacks of flour for the hospitals. Rags Kelly donates a sack of flour for disputing the umpire's decisions. John I. Mills (Hand Mc Down), was fined a sack of flour for his desperate efforts to maim the Thirsty nine batsmen. The game furnished fun galore, the Thirsty Thugs winning out by a score of twenty (20) to seventeen (17) in a five (5) innings game.

—Twiss Bros. returned to Edmonton yesterday with their steamer from taking a trip 85 miles up the river. They brought a cargo of lumber back with them and made a very successful trip.
—The baseball and lacrosse tickets that were to have been played for on Labor Day, are on exhibition in Powley's. Suggestions are being made that these trophies be bought and arranged between the Strathcona and Edmonton teams for an afternoon's sport when these valuable prizes could be competed for.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16TH.

FROM OTTAWA

Bulletin Correspondence.

The discussion on the Grand Trunk Pacific resolutions has degenerated into mere obstruction on the part of the opposition, which the government has met by insistence that the business of the country shall be carried on. After the late session on Wednesday morning the second and third readings of the resolutions and the first and second readings of the bill founded on the resolutions passed without discussion, and as the members were tired from the long session of Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, the House adjourned at six on Wednesday evening. It was then expected that matters would go smoothly in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific bill and that a renewal of obstructive tactics need not be looked for until the redistribution bill was brought down. It appears, however, that the opposition have reached the conclusion that the government intends to bring on a general election this fall. This they object to and hope to prevent by lengthening the session to such a degree as will render it practically impossible to bring on the election this year. Members on the government side have no definite information on the subject, and while there is always a possibility of a general election, there is only as yet a possibility in this case. The opposition, however, have determined that it shall not occur, and are putting up a barricade of talk and wasted time which they hope will protect them against an election, and against its result to themselves. It is only fair to the leader of the opposition to acquit him of being the instigator of this movement. It has been current rumor for some time that his health was not as that could be desired; that he was suffering from insomnia and also rheumatism. He has not been in the House this week and left this morning for Caledonia Springs to make a considerable stay in the hope of recovering his health. During his absence his alleged followers have simply broken loose from all restraint of parliamentary usage; and where they will fetch up no one knows.

During his speech on the railway resolutions, Mr. Scott, of West Assiniboia, drew comparison between the terms upon which the Saskatchewan Valley is securing railway development under the Liberal government by aid to the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk lines; and the terms under which the Conservative government took to develop it by the construction of the Regina-Prince Albert, and Calgary-Edmonton railways. The conditions under which these railways were constructed have already been mentioned in the Bulletin. These were practically the facts stated by Mr. Scott, and in his statement he alluded to the connection of E. B. Osler, M. P. for West Toronto, with the transaction, speaking of him as a graffer. On Thursday morning Mr. Osler on a question of privilege entered into a long explanation of his connection with these railways and attempted to discredit the statements made by Mr. Scott. This produced an argumentous discussion which lasted during all the forenoon sitting and a part of the afternoon. The House then reverted to the further consideration of the railway bill in committee of the whole. The amendment of which notice was given by Mr. Monk, and which set forth Mr. Horden's alternative railway proposition, was not moved as Mr. Monk had promised, at the second reading, before the House, therefore, nothing before the House but the bill itself. Although the principles and details of the bargain had been discussed in the debate on the resolution for some three weeks and a decisive vote finally reached, the opposition devoted the rest of the day to mere obstruction of the bill in committee. Matters went on from hour to hour until after midnight, the opposition not permitting the passage of a single clause and demanding that the House adjourn. The government, on the other hand, being charged with the discharge of business, and recognizing the lateness of the session and the fact that the question had already been fully threshed out in the House, desired that some progress must be made before the House adjourned. The opposition maintained their position that no progress would be permitted; with the result that at this writing (Friday forenoon) the House is still sitting, with the prospect of its continuing to sit, with intervals for lunch and dinner, until midnight and possibly until midnight of Saturday, unless the opposition sooner decide to let the business of the country go on.

This incident, before the country fairly, G. A. Ardy the plan for delaying the business of the session, which is certain to be an important issue before the electors. After the resolutions had been debated at such length and finally agreed to, and after the principle of the bill had been unanimously agreed to, the government would not be justified in permitting further delay of the business of the House without taking such a stand as would demonstrate beyond question which side was responsible for the delay.

Under parliamentary rule there must be a quorum of twenty present in the chamber or the House is adjourned; and there must be continuous speaking or the clauses of the bill under consideration are declared carried. The purpose of the opposition is to prevent the passing of clauses of the bill, and the purpose of the government is to prevent the adjournment of the House. The opposition must therefore, keep up a perpetual stream of talk in order to achieve their object. And the government must maintain an attendance of at least twenty in order to attain theirs. This will necessitate the division of the government supporters into reliefs so that one part may rest while the other part keep up the quorum and the government majority.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Jimmie Fax, the Irresistible, Takes Edmonton Audience By Storm

Robertson hall was jammed to the doors last night to hear the great Fax Concert Company. Expectations ran high. Every available seat was reserved and people paid their dollar expecting to hear a high class entertainment. The programme far surpassed their expectations. Jimmie Fax was of course the star of the evening. He is irresistible. His appearance on the stage was the signal for uproarious applause. His lightning changes of costume, and the most characteristic of costumes, added to the enjoyment of the evening. His comic song "The 13 H'm-Hu-Has," was one of the funniest funny songs ever given an Edmonton audience. Mr. Fax responded time after time to prolonged and enthusiastic applause. The character impersonations sent the audience into cheers of approval and delight. Miss Bella Fax rendered a charming piano solo and sang a couple very sweet songs which were greatly enjoyed. Miss Ethel Schofield made a decided hit. Her readings were very good, but her dancing took the audience by storm. It was grace and beauty itself, far in advance of anything ever seen on an Edmonton stage. There was no attempt made to appeal to the masculine portion of the audience, and the difficult and intricate dances were executed with a dignity and grace which was highly refreshing. Miss Schofield's stage appearance was decidedly attractive.

The company were to have appeared again this evening but owing to a failure to appear in Strathcona on Monday night the Edmonton engagement has been cancelled and the concert will be held in Strathcona to-night.

Mr. Jas. Cronn, of the Halfway hotel, leaves for San Francisco this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Seagert and family moved into town today. They have been out for the summer on their farm, but have found that the recent wintry weather was too severe for camping out.

Notwithstanding the amount of rain that has fallen during the past week, the roads with the exception of a few small mudholes, are in very good condition.

The prevailing showery weather is a very great inconvenience to the farmers who are harvesting. Work with the binders is progressing as favorably as can be expected under the circumstances. About half of the crops in the district are cut.

Contractor Sid. Mearon is very busy erecting the barn at the Halfway Hotel. When finished the barn will be 30x50 feet with a spacious hayloft and with stabling room for twenty-five horses.

Although Labor Day was a magnificent one, numerous parties from town took in the country and amused themselves immensely. The booming of guns could be heard in every direction, and a few stray ducks, who were so fortunate as to escape those terrible shooters, could be seen scurrying fast in search of safer quarters. Another party, some of the most prominent citizens of Edmonton, visited at the Halfway and spent a very pleasant day in numerous athletic sports.

A runaway accident took place here on Wednesday evening last, which fortunately resulted in nothing more than a few scratches and bruises. Mr. B. H. Cronn, of the Halfway hotel, was returning from town (where the team had run away and smashed the democrat they were attached to into fragments) and had stopped in front of the hotel to unload some provisions. Mr. Cronn and his son, James, were standing at the horses' heads when they suddenly bolted, and turning around started up the road dragging Jim, who still held on to one of the horses' heads, about a hundred yards when he let go and fell beneath the rig, the wheels passing over both his legs bruising them severely. The team then dashed into the barbed wire fence where they became entangled, receiving several cuts on the legs from the wire. It was with the utmost difficulty that the horses were finally extricated from their precarious position. What nearly proved a more serious accident happened the next day, Thursday, when Harry Cronn drove into town with the same team. On returning the team bolted twice; the second time one of the horses commenced kicking and broke the whiffletree and dash board, at the same time jerking Harry forward over the front of the rig, where he fell with his head at the horses' heels; one of his feet becoming caught in the pole brace. In this dangerous position the team dragged him a distance of two hundred yards, when by some particular movement Harry disengaged his foot, falling beneath the wheels which passed across his chest, inflicting no other injury than to slightly bruise one of his arms. The team finally stopped when the pole dropped, sticking into the ground. Both these young men were very fortunate indeed to have escaped with such slight injuries. We certainly need to exercise particular caution, else such high spirited horses will cause somebody's funeral. September 12th.

VEGREVILLE

Sergeant Major Schoof, of South African fame, passed through Vegreville last week on his return trip. He was formerly a member of the Bechuanaland Border Police in South Africa and since his return some years ago, has lectured throughout the American continent. At present the Sergeant is studying carefully life in the west as he finds it here and elsewhere.

Rev. R. S. Longley leaves shortly for Winnipeg to pursue his studies in Wesley college.

Two days ago Rev. Mr. Ray and his wife were called upon to undergo a severe trial in the death of their youngest child. Although the very best of nursing and medical care were given to the little fellow, yet death claimed him as his own on Tuesday night of this week. We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Ray sincere sympathy in this their time of suffering.

School reopened August 31st after having been closed for a holiday of four weeks.

A butcher shop is being erected in our village. All modern conveniences are fast coming our way.

Rev. Mr. Aldridge, of Fort Saskatchewan, preached in Vegreville last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Thorniow has charge of the Presbyterian service here next Sabbath.

Mr. E. Pelletier, of Vegreville, lost a $200 horse this week as a result of swamp fever.

Haying is proceeding in much the same manner as the weather.

(From Another Correspondent).

School opened again last Monday after four weeks of vacation.

The twelve months' old baby of Mr.

and Mrs. Ray died on Tuesday night of last week and was buried on Thursday in the Dennis cemetery. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Rothney, of Beaver Lake. The little fellow died of cholera infantum after several weeks of suffering. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of this community.

Little Robbie, thou hast left us, Here thy loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that has bereft us. He can all our sorrows heal.

Harvest has commenced. We can hear the rattle of the binders again. The frost does not seem to have injured the grain. It seems to ripen right along, notwithstanding the cool, wet weather.

James Wilson and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby boy, who came to them a week ago.

Frank Dennis arrived last night with a binder. He says the big grain will have to suffer now.

Our new merchant, Mr. Spence, stands behind the counter now in Mr. Geo. Robertson's place.

There is a butcher shop going up up now in this village. We hope soon to see a bakery also.

September 4th.

BEAVER LAKE EAST

A communion service is to be held in the church here on the 20th inst. at 3:30 p.m.

Rev. W. G. Rothney, accompanied by Mr. Woodside, visited the Britannia colony lately. He says the trail from Sickman's Hill to Lloydminster, the colony's capital, was very good. For quite a distance water could not be had, which shows that the wet weather has missed some sections of the country. Mr. Rothney says the new settlers are of a superior class, are cheerful and industrious, and will prove a decided acquisition.

Mr. Perrett inspected our school on August 31st. Haying drags wearily along. The crops are ripening slowly. Some cutting of barley, wheat and oats has been done. From this on, weather permitting, harvesting will be general. There has been no serious frost so far in this locality. Near the lake, potatoes, corn, etc., are still green.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC
BILL AGAIN UPTrouble Over the Finance
Bill—Opposition Practically Obstructing.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch.)

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—The Grand Trunk Pacific railway bill was up for discussion to-day. Borden, opposition leader, was present after a two weeks' absence. There was interminable discussion but not actual obstruction. Several clauses passed. The Auditor-general has had disagreement with the finance bill introduced this morning to compel him to act. It cannot be passed until the Senate re-assembles on the 24th. The trouble arises indirectly out of the Martineau defalcation of last winter.

UNION S. S. PICNIC

Splendid Time on the Exhibition Ground—Ideal Weather.

Edmonton's Civic Holiday, 1903, will long be remembered by the children of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches, the occasion being a union Sunday school picnic. The real old article in Alberta weather graced the day and aided very materially in its success. The children met at their respective churches and marched to the exhibition grounds. Here the picnicers scattered, the boys and girls engaging in different games and sports. Large numbers of them clustered around the swings in the beautiful grove on the east side of the grounds. While the children were thus amusing themselves, the ladies prepared dinner in the large dining hall. The dinner was an over-supply of the best of everything. Dinner being over, the children repaired to the baseball grounds, where the races, etc. were held. A large number of the boys and girls competed in the different events and the large crowd of older people who had by this time gathered on the grounds, watched the races with a great deal of interest. A baseball match, the next in order, was perhaps the most amusing game ever played in Edmonton. The large crowd of spectators shook with laughter at the play of the Edmonton Never Sweets and their opponents, the Thirsty Thugs. It was meant to be an amusing game and it certainly was. A polo match followed between two local teams, and was watched with a great deal of interest. The prizes were then distributed to the children. By this time the afternoon was well along, and all good times must come to an end, and the crowd began to leave the grounds for the city. Buses were in attendance to convey the little folk from the grounds.

The day throughout was exceedingly enjoyable, and every event passed off without the slightest hitch. Messrs. Bellamy, Jamieson and Thom deserve credit for the successful carrying out of the boys' and girls' races. The prize winners in the different events were:

Boys' hundred yard dash, open—1st, Bert Huff; 2nd, Gordon Inglis; 3rd, Dan Fraser.
Girls' fifty yard dash, open—1st, Jessie Storey; 2nd, Mabel Hand; 3rd, Ruby Best.

Boys under four feet six inches, hundred yard dash—1st, Dan Fraser; 2nd, Ed. McDougall; 3rd, K. Kincaid.

Girls under four feet six inches, fifty yard dash—1st, Jessie Storey; 2nd, Gladys Montgomery; 3rd, Lily West.

Boys under four feet, fifty yard dash—1st, Earl Dowling; 2nd, Jim Howey; 3rd, Jack Oliver.

Three-legged race—1st, C. Brenton and W. Hallett; 2nd, Ed. McDougall and Walker Taylor; 3rd, F. Brandon and R. Williamson.

Thread the needle race—1st, Walker Taylor and Irene Harbottle; 2nd, R. Williamson and Jessie Barnes; 3rd, Jas. McQueen and Annie McKay.

Sack race—1st, Earl Dowling; 2nd, R. Williamson; 3rd, Jas. McQueen.

Potato race—1st, Agnes McMillan; 2nd, Jessie Ibbotson; 3rd, Grace Coleman.

Team race—1st, W. Hallett, F. Brandon, R. Williamson, D. Fraser; 2nd, Roy Briery, Ed. Hoover, Arthur Davidson, Fred Hume; 3rd, J. Bieble, Allan Oliver, Jas. Bieble, Fred Durdle.

Broad jump, open—1st, G. Inglis; 2nd, Ed. McDougall; 3rd, G. Carney.

Broad jump, under four feet six inches—1st, Ralph Huestis; 2nd, Jack Munnell; 3rd, Benjie Durdle.

Hop, step and jump—1st, R. Williamson; 2nd, Walker Taylor; 3rd, Gordon Inglis.

This brought the day's proceedings to a close.

POLO MATCH

Interesting Game Played on Exhibition Grounds Yesterday.

Not by any means the least interesting of Edmonton's civic holiday events was the polo match which took place on the exhibition grounds. It was the first polo match ever played in Edmonton and it has aroused considerable interest in the game. The spectators watched the game, which was between two local teams, with great deal of interest. The sides were pretty evenly matched—the two captains playing strong games. The following are the teams: Dr. Clendenan, captain; Messrs. Robert, Gariepy and Twyford. Root, Mays, captain; F. Jamieson, R. Robertson and Dr. Ferrier. The game ended in a victory for Robert Mays side, by a score of 2 to 0. A long and successful shot on goal by R. Robertson being an excellent feature of the game.
